Why Buy in Minnesota?

Minnesota has long been a source for top-quality Shorthorn seed stock. Top females, such as those seen above with Marellbar Elected at Dewey Lunstra's Circle L Ranch, Beaver Creek, Minn., have produced improving seed stock that has found wide favor. Some of the breed's best bulls, like Fontana Benbow, at right, held by owner Charles Augustine, Lake City, Minn., are also in use in Minnesota. Top bulls and top females, rich in pedigree and performance, have contributed to a growing list of satisfied Minnesota Shorthorn customers.

Master breeders the world over refer to the Shorthorn bull as "THE GREAT IMPROVER". They have found that one cross of Shorthorn blood can do more to grade up the average herd than any other breed.

Why Buy A Shorthorn Bull?

Best for Crossing.....

Crossbreeding tests at the Louisiana State University show that Shorthorn crosses with both Angus and Herefords were superior to the Angus-Hereford cross in weaning weight, slaughter calf grade, rate of gain, weight-per-day of age and carcass grade.

Produce More Lean Cuts..

The large Indianapolis Carcass Contest, proved, in a comparison of lightweight entries, that Shorthorns produced a higher dressed weight, more pounds of lean cuts and a carcass of greater value. The average Shorthorn carcass was worth $30.68 per cwt. as compared to $29.93 for Angus and $29.91 for Herefords. A 210-head study by the Quebec Department of Agriculture also proved that Shorthorns mature earlier and produce a higher carcass grade.

More Valuable Calf Crops...

A summary of 30 feeder sales in Virginia in 1960, involving 34,517 head of all breeds, revealed that Shorthorns, which have their own sale at Winchester, outweighed, outsold and outgrossed their competitors. The Shorthorn average weight was 495 lbs. as compared to 456 for all sales. Shorthorns sold for a $25.37 per cwt. average as compared to $25.19 for all sales and they grossed $125.51 a head as against $114.84 for other breeds . . . a Shorthorn advantage of $10.67 on every calf.

Superior Gaining Ability...

Shorthorns scored the highest average gains at the large Front Royal, Virginia, interbreed performance tests for eight straight years. In the largest testing program in the nation, the Kentucky Performance Test, Shorthorns outscored other participating breeds in every category.

Less Health Problems.....

A study conducted by Dr. M. E. Ensminger, Washington State University, and presented at the 1960 Shorthorn Progress Conference, revealed that breeders, college men and meat industry experts rated Shorthorns the highest for milking ability, freedom from dwarfism, immunity to disease.

Growing Feeder Demand.....

At sale after sale last fall, the demand for Shorthorn feeder calves and Shorthorn crossbreds was greater than existing supplies. For example, 250 buyers from six states were on hand to bid on a 1,000-head supply at the Kansas Shorthorn Feeder Sale last fall. Many orders went unfilled at this and other sales. Other feedlot operators have indicated a willingness to pay a premium price to get those faster gaining, earlier maturing Shorthorn calves. Get on the bandwagon . . . start using Shorthorn bulls. The following men will help you market those Shorthorn and Shorthorn crossbreds . . . Ted Aegerter, American Shorthorn Ass'n, Stock Yards Station, Omaha, Nebr.; Albert Hamann, Rock Rapids, Iowa; Bill Stunkel, The Shorthorn World, 16 South Locust St., Aurora, Ill. Write them.
